WHITE SEAL BURNING OIL

The New York board of health estimates that 80,000 lives have been destroyed by the explosive qualities of petroleum. If every household would adopt the White Seal oil for family use, none of these unfortunate accidents would occur.

WHITE SEAL BURNING OIL is has none of the defects usually found in common oils. It cannot be exploded, does not char the skin, will not smoke, emit no offensive odor, and prevents the breaking of chimneys.

WHITE SEAL BURNING OIL is a rich oil for illuminating purposes. It is a light in color and burns much longer than common oil.

If this oil is not sold in your vicinity, send your order direct to us for a barrel or a case containing two five gallon cans.

There were never so many actors out of employment in New York city.

The popular idea has been that the world contains seven wonders, but the eight made his appearance at the Capitol. It was a poor benighted man limping with rheumatism who had never heard of Salvation Oil. It is sold by all druggists at twenty-five cents a bottle.

Chemists are going out of fashion, the comet cover and short petticoat taking their place.

You need a remedy that will cure every kind of humor from a pimple or eruption to the worst scrofula and syphilitic disorders, see Dr. Guyot's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla. Three to five bottles cure skin disease, salt-rheum or fever. Four to ten bottles cure running ulcers, scrofula and all syphilitic disorders. One to three bottles cure sores, boils, carbuncles, etc. One to two bottles cure pimples on the face, blisters, etc. It is the only perfect blood purifier that can be made from a thorough knowledge of drugs. Ask your druggist for it. Take no substitutes.

The newest house slippers are of dark brown leather finished by retsettes.

The use of Iodoform or mercurials in the treatment of catarrh—whether in the form of suppositories or ointments—should be avoided, as they are both injurious and dangerous. Iodoform is easily detected by its offensive odor. The only reliable catarrh remedy on the market today is Ely's Cream Balm, being free from all poisonous drugs. It has cured thousands of chronic, and acute cases, where all other remedies have failed. A particle is applied into each nostril; no pain; agreeable to use. Price fifty cents; of druggist.

Showmen are competing for a year-old babe of eighty pounds in Norwalk, Conn.

A Voice From Italy.

Rev. W. Van Meter, superintendent of the Italian Bible and Sunday School Mission at Rome, Italy, writes under date of Sept. 1, 1884: "The Italians call God's Extract 'eau de Dio' water of God. We use it for every ache and pain; it is indispensable in our medical department. I knew it was good before, but now I cannot find words to express my praise of its excellence." Invaluable for cuts, burns, bruises, catarrh, neuralgia, etc.

Rheumatism Quickly Cured.

There has never been a medicine for rheumatism introduced in Fort Wayne that has given such universal satisfaction as Durang's Ithomine Remedy. It stands out alone as the one great remedy that uniformly cures this dread disease. It is taken internally and externally, and soon fails to cure the worst case in the shortest time. It is a safe endorsement and recommendation of many leading physicians in this state and elsewhere.

PRESIDENTIAL AUTOGRAPHS.

How the Presidents of the United States Signed their Names.

We reproduce below in full simile the signatures of all the presidents. They are taken from historical documents in the possession of Mr. Ed. W. Bok, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

George Washington

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

What firmness and dignity is expressed in the signature of Washington. His writing, like everything else he did, was executed with rare deliberateness and ability.

John Adams

JOHN ADAMS.

The above autograph is taken from a letter of John Adams while he was vice-president. He was precise and methodical in his letters, as he was shrewd and sagacious in business.

Thomas Jefferson

THOMAS JEFFERSON.

Thomas Jefferson's hand was just such a young man acquires in college, where little attention is usually paid to penmanship. His signature was graceful and dignified compared to his other writing.

James Madison

JAMES MADISON.

Madison was another college graduate, but his "fist" was firm and plain.

James Monroe

JAMES MONROE.

Monroe was a busy man and did not waste much time on his autograph.

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS.

John Quincy Adams' chirography was as graceful and formal as copper-plate script.

Andrew Jackson

ANDREW JACKSON.

Andrew Jackson subscripted himself as if, "By the Eternal," he meant it. He bore as hard on the paper as to force the ink through.

Martin Van Buren

MARTIN VAN BUREN.

The above signature of Martin Van Buren was written a few months before his death in 1862, at the age of 80.

William Henry Harrison

WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON.

Harrison wrote in a cramped, ungraceful hand. His education had been neglected, for at the age of 19 he was engaged in an Indian war.

Zachary Taylor

ZACHARY TAYLOR.

Stern and bold like his author is the chirography of Zachary Taylor.

Millard Fillmore

MILLARD FILLMORE.

One year before his death in 1874 ex-President Fillmore indited the above. He was born in 1800, so that his hand had lost much of its early grace.

Franklin Pierce

FRANKLIN PIERCE.

Pierce wrote in an old-fashioned, dignified way. He did not spare paper. He would scrawl a few words over a whole sheet.

Abraham Lincoln

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Honesty and homeliness characterized the handwriting of Abraham Lincoln. He wasted little time on his signature.

Andrew Johnson

ANDREW JOHNSON.

Painfully labored was Johnson's penmanship. For a man who was apprenticed to a tailor at the age of 10 it is all that could be expected.

U. S. Grant

U. S. GRANT.

Gen. Grant writes in a bold, firm, decisive, rapid way. As he says it is written U. S. Grant.

Rutherford B. Hayes

RUTHERFORD B. HAYES.

Like the scratches of his favorite hen does Rutherford's pen make tracks over the paper. He is saving of both ink and paper.

Chester A. Arthur

CHESTER A. ARTHUR.

Ex-President Arthur writes rapidly. From the start to the finish of his signature his pen never lets go of the paper even to cross the "T's."

E. N. Sibley

E. N. SIBLEY.

Mr. Sibley's manuscript is positively painful to decipher. The style is sharp and incisive. He writes with lightning rapidity and with little regard for the reader.

Recovered Through a Dream.

A lady well known in this city, and wife of one of the most prominent citizens, relates an incident that furnishes a very remarkable instance of the vividness of dreams. "Mr. —," said the lady, "had given me four brand-new ten dollar bills on leaving for business in the morning, which I folded loosely and put into my pocketbook, a very light chamois-skin purse, fastened only by two overlapping prongs at the top, easily opened by a gentle pull. The bills had just been cut and had never been creased, consequently when folded loosely they were quite sprightly and created quite a pressure against the sides of the purse. I went into several stores downtown during the afternoon but did not once open my purse. That night I found on opening it that I had $20, one of my new bills having mysteriously disappeared. Of course it worried me considerably, but I was utterly at a loss to account for its disappearance and went to sleep with it on my mind. During the night I had the most vivid dream imaginable, and in it I recalled an incident that had entirely escaped my memory. I had been talking with a lady in one of the principal stores during the afternoon, one of the partners of the firm being with us also. Suddenly she called my attention to the fact that my purse, which dangled from my wrist, had come open. I thanked her and closed it, and soon left the store. This incident was recalled as plainly as it had originally occurred, and my dream continuing, I thought, I sent the servant, told him to go to the partner who had been present at the moment when the lady called my attention to the fact that the pocketbook was open, ask him if he recalled the incident and see if the money had been found. Half an hour later he returned and handed me the identical bill. It had been found after the closing of the store and left with the cashier. No one knew anything of how it came there, and the partner naturally enough failed to recall an incident trivial as that of

THE CITY.

T. E. Ellison is at Indianapolis. Do not fail to hear Jimmy Dunn. The Pittsburgh pay car arrived to-day. Dr. Moody is preaching at Omaha this week.

T. E. Ellison is at Indianapolis on legal business.

Edgar Kemp is celebrating his forty-ninth birthday to-day.

Wm. Parker, traveling auditor of the Pittsburgh road, is in the city.

Jeff Meyers is at home from the prison north, where he served a year.

The desertion case of Sam Bowser has been appealed to the circuit court.

Officer John O'Connell last night arrested Wm. L. Fout for drunkenness.

Miss Rose Geary, of St. Paul, Minn., is the guest of her mother and brother, Ambrose.

A bright little daughter of Mr. John Schaeffer, the Grand street grocer, died yesterday evening.

The revival services at the Baptist church will be resumed this evening and continue during the week.

Judge Samuel E. Sinclair tells us he will be a candidate for mayor before the approaching democratic city convention.

Capt. Patrick Touhey, of Missouri, is visiting his friends in this city. The captain was formerly a citizen of this place.

A Pittsburgh conductor knocked down two tramps who insulted him, on South Calhoun street, yesterday evening. Saved them right.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Berry street M. E. church, will hold an anniversary service and open their mite boxes at the church this evening.

Last evening Marshal Meyer found a little girl wandering about Calhoun street. The child was lost and Dick carried her in his arms to her home in the Ninth Ward.

The Terre Haute Express says: "Mr. Max Bachert, husband of Miss Fannie Kellogg, the singer, was in the city this week. He says his wife is to sing at the concert at Fort Wayne in June."

Prof. Kibbe, the lecherous Kendallville pedagogue, has not been arrested. He is fifty years old and his children are grown. The young woman he went on a tour with is known here, where her sister was the wife of Mike Meyers.

The Ann Arbor university board notifies old students here of the offer of a prize of $25 for the best original college song composed by any one connected with the institution in the past or present, the award to be made March 27.

P. J. Fallon will seek a nice place under the present democratic administration. Mr. Fallon has been a hard party worker and deserves recognition. The state officers have testified to Mr. Fallon's democracy and personal worth in a complimentary letter.

In a letter written since the election, President Cleveland said he regarded his election as a purely business affair. The people were to pay him $50,000 a year to attend to their business, and he proposed to look to their interests as a lawyer would look to the interests of a client who had paid the retaining fee.

There was a wreck on the Pittsburgh this morning about one o'clock, near Valparaiso, caused by a broken rail. Twenty cars were derailed and badly damaged. The cars were loaded with whisky. Several passenger trains were detained on account of the wreck. No. 4 arrived in this city six hours late.

Captain Diehl, Lieutenant Wilkinson and Officers Lee, Schrader and Troutman raided the gaming rooms over Duke's saloon and arrested John Clark, the faro dealer, and thirteen sporting men. The men put up $25 apiece and this morning the money was forfeited. The professional gamblers gave their right names, but a few favored bloods are hidden under such aliases as "John Jones," "George Johnson," etc.

Charles L. Davis, of "Alvin Joslin" fame is at Indianapolis. The actor appears at the temple next Monday with his company and sixteen musicians. Davis has made a reputation and a fortune, and both are envied. He is a wide-awake American who sticks closely to one thing and has firm faith in the efficiency of printer's ink. A penchant for diamonds and sealskin apparel has caused him to be thought eccentric, but he is believed to be possessed of about $200,000 he can stand it.

Professor Wiggins predicts a great storm to-morrow, mainly on the Atlantic. Its main force will be on the meridian of London, but it will be there thirty-six hours before it will reach America. He hopes no vessel bearing troops to the Sondan will be out in it, especially in the Bay of Biscay. He says that when the storm strikes this continent it will arise and will not be felt very heavily. The storm will be accompanied by earthquakes, which, however, will only be slightly felt on this side of the Atlantic.

The police are after the dives and sin must go.

Mrs. Christian Hiser, of Pleasant township, was buried yesterday.

The Axion society will give an entertainment Easter Sunday evening.

Wm. Cartwright, of Arcola, was fined by Justice Ryan to-day for selling liquor on Sunday.

Engineer Ed McDonald, of the Wabash, is now able to set up the greater part of the day.

The Beethoven Liederkrantz, of Richmond, will take part in the Fort Wayne singerfest, in June.

The authorities of the state insane asylum have rejected John O'Connor, recently adjudged insane.

Dr. A. W. L. Bowers, of Canal Dover, Ohio, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Troutner, of New Haven.

Jim Hendrie, of the Wabash, has been offered a position as superintendent of a large foundry and machine shop at New Haven, Conn.

The case against Henry Burgess for fraudulent conveyance of property, will come up before Justice Ryan to-morrow morning. Mr. Burgess is broken down in health.

Tom Ahern was arrested to-day for deserting his wife. Justice Scarlet heard the case, and bound Mr. Ahern to support his family. Ahern is the well known plasterer and contractor.

The indications for the lower lake region, as reported by the weather bureau at Washington to THE SENTINEL, are as follows: Fair, warmer weather, westerly winds, falling barometer.

Night before last the side rods of a Pittsburgh locomotive broke and crushed through the cab. William Tagtmeyer, a new fireman, wanted to leap from the engine, but the engineer held him.

Mayor Zollinger has issued a proclamation ordering citizens to clean their property before April 1, or be fined. The health committee will also recommend improvements in the construction of sewers and vaults.

The surety of the peace case of Redelsheimer vs. Leiter was transferred from Justice Hays to Esquire Linker, of New Haven. There are fifty-three witnesses in the case. Dr. Leiter was in the city last evening and is happy.

The Indianapolis Times complains that Joe Cope is dismissing all his assistants in the state senate and appointing Allen county men in their stead. It adds that Judge Lowry dictated the course, but the Times is certainly in error.

The Lafayette Courier says that "Mason Long, the converted gambler, will speak at the Baptist chapel on Wednesday evening at half past seven o'clock. For more than six years he has been an active, consistent, successful worker, and his talks are helpful to all classes. No admission fee or collection."

Last evening at 7 o'clock Sheriff Nelson closed the news depot and book store of Louis A. Etzold at 19 West Berry street, on a confession of judgment by Etzold to his mother, for $1,238.46. Mr. Etzold has long been ill health. Recently A. C. Katt has assisted Mr. Etzold. The sheriff is now taking an invoice of the stock.

This morning Miss Mollie, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Murphy, of Fairfield avenue, died after a brief illness. The little girl was bright and pretty and for her charming manners all her acquaintances loved her. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends in their sad bereavement. The funeral occurs Thursday and will leave the family residence at 10 o'clock. Religious services will be held at the cathedral at 10:30.

The Huntington News has this gossip: "John Adolphus Maier, the popular assistant county clerk of Allen county, informed the News young man that he was going to come down to Huntington county to see the boys, bring his guitar and sing 'When the Robin Nest Again,' 'Peek-a-Boo,' 'Over the Garden Fence,' when the irate father appears at the door with a double barreled 'dog' and a bucket of ashes."

Messrs. Foote & O'Connor will open their "Princess" skating rink Thursday evening next and the occasion will be exceedingly brilliant. The appointments of the rink are most complete. The seating arrangements are superb and give every spectator a view of the floor. All rooms are connected by tube or telephone and in the south end of the hall will hang an indicator to announce the significance of every tap of the bell.

The sixty-sixth anniversary of American Odd Fellowship will be commemorated by the lodges throughout the national jurisdiction April 26, 1885. As the anniversary occurs on Sunday Grand Sire Garey has designated Saturday, April 25, or Monday, April 27, as suitable days to be observed, leaving it optional with lodges as to which they will select. The Fort Wayne lodges have arranged for a grand joint demonstration Monday, April 27, and Auditor of State W. R. Myers, P. G. Rep., will deliver the principal address.

Officer George Humbrecht, last night arrested John Dratt, who is charged with keeping a house of ill fame in connection with his saloon, on Harrison street.

Dratt gave bail and Emma Stapleford and Maud Bowman were held as witnesses. The case will come up before the mayor to-morrow morning and Mr. Dratt has employed an attorney to fight the case to the bitter end.

Trustee Gaffney to-day shipped three destitute families to Decatur. The people were enticed out west by a land agent, who pictured fields of gold with ripening grain.

The judgements against Louis A. Etzold were withdrawn to-day and the news depot is again open with Mr. Etzold at the helm. All financial matters were satisfactorily settled.

The governor appointed Andrew Hagen state inspector of oils yesterday. Inspector Swain some weeks since gave notice of his resignation, and will give way to Hagen on April 1. Fort Wayne men aspired to this position.

Governor Gray yesterday received his first official document from Daniel Manning, secretary of the treasury, in the form of plats of ground at Fort Wayne and Terra Haute, where the government proposes to erect custom houses.

The Wabash men refuse to go to work until the railroad company agrees to pay them for overwork and reduce the hospital assessment to three cents a man. At present the assessment runs from 85 cents to $1.00. They claim they do not object to being taxed to support the hospital, and would be only two willing to contribute what was just and right, but do not feel happy that the road should, through the hospital scheme, attempt to pay off its mortgage out of their salaries. Master Mechanic Barnes was at St. Louis and returns to-night to effect a final settlement. It is probable the men will resume work to-morrow.

No cause of action.

A verdict of no cause of action was rendered Saturday in the Kent, Michigan, circuit court in the case of Hufford vs. the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad company. Hufford got on a train at Manton with, as he supposed, a through ticket. The conductor noticed that it had been punched and demanded fare. Preferring to pay rather than get off Hufford gave up 25 cents. The case has been tried three times. The previous trial resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff for $300 but the defendant appealed the case to the supreme court, which ordered a new trial. It resulted as above stated.

St. Patrick's Day.

This is the 1,497th anniversary of the birth of St. Patrick, the first bishop of Ireland. In every civilised country this day is observed by the "Exiles of Erin," while in the country itself pageantry and prayer rule the day. In Fort Wayne the occasion was observed by the Irish people, who attended mass at the cathedral and listened to a magnificent panegyric on Ireland's patron saint from the lips of Father O'Leary. The St. Patrick's benevolent society attended mass in full regalia, while Irish-Americans donned the shamrock or green.

This evening Rev. P. P. Cooney, an eloquent priest, will lecture at Library hall and later a party will banquet at the Fox parlor.

Found Still and Cold.

This is the last day for the ground hog. A SENTINEL representative was on hand bright and early to greet the little fellow as he would emerge from his six weeks confinement; but after waiting patiently for two long hours he failed to show up. Thinking something might be the matter with Mr. G., we informed him that his six weeks were up and that the people of Fort Wayne and vicinity were anxious to know what to do. If he intended to keep the zero business up all summer, why we wanted to know it and skirmish around for more coal or saw dust. If not, we wanted to get ready to plant corn or go fishing. Mr. Ground Hog never replied. Growing desperate we seized a long pole and attempted to awaken Mr. Ground Hog, when, lo and behold, the poor little fellow was dead—frozen as stiff and solid as a Scotch herring.

Messrs. Foote & O'Connor will open their "Princess" skating rink Thursday evening next and the occasion will be exceedingly brilliant. The appointments of the rink are most complete. The seating arrangements are superb and give every spectator a view of the floor. All rooms are connected by tube or telephone and in the south end of the hall will hang an indicator to announce the significance of every tap of the bell.

WE NEED IT.

Stand by our Young Men and Give them a Home they can call their own.

Initiatory steps were taken yesterday evening for the organization of a Young Men's Christian association in this city. Dr. Marshall, of Indianapolis, secretary of the state organization, will be here in a few days and have a talk with our people on the subject. There are very few cities in the United States with a population like Fort Wayne but what has an organization of this kind. Our young men need protection. They need some where to spend their evenings. Give them a good warm room, with plenty of reading matter, and you keep them away from saloons and places of vice. We asked a young man, who had only been a resident of the city a short time, how he spent his evenings. He remarked that he did not like to sit in his boarding house all evening, and was compelled for want of other places, to go to saloons. He said in Springfield, where he formerly resided, he spent his evenings in the Young Men's Christian Association rooms. The railroad men have an association and we are glad to learn that much good is being done. Now give us another one, located in a prominent business center, and Fort Wayne will feel the effects of it, and our young men can have a home.

A FIRM DISSOLVES.

Mrs. Owen, Pixley & Co., The Clothiers, Dissolve Partnership and Amalgamating Divide Their Business Houses.

The announcement is made that Messrs. Owen, Pixley & Co., the great Utica clothing manufacturers, have dissolved partnership and divided equally their twelve business houses. The Owen Brothers have taken the Indianapolis house, styled the "When" Clothing house and five other stores.

The Pixley Brothers retain the parent house, at Utica, the most extensive in the country, and also control the clothing house in Fort Wayne, Terra Haute and Danville Ill. The business of the firm has so increased and assumed such immense proportions that a division became necessary and was amicably effected. George W. Pixley will manage the clothing house here and infuse into it the life and business tact that characterizes him. The Fort Wayne house is on a splendid basis and Mr. Pixley is now at the Utica house selecting a new line of goods for his business here, which occupies three floors.

TEMPERANCE TALK.

Mrs. Balch gives a "Chalk Talk" to the Children—Jewels Down, the Temperance Worker, to Hold a Series of Meetings.

The audience room of the Berry street M. E. church was well filled last evening to hear Mrs. M. E. Balch, state vice president of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, in her "chalk talk" to the White Ribbon clubs of the various Sunday schools of the city. The lady is a pleasant, earnest speaker and her address was illustrated by many charts and pictures, which made it much more interesting, especially to the children. At the conclusion of Mrs. Balch's address, Mr. James Dunn, who has been invited to this city to hold a series of gospel temperance meetings, was introduced and in a few words explained the object and mode of conducting his work.

A temperance mass meeting was held in the Third Presbyterian church this afternoon, under the leadership of Mr. Dunn, assisted by the Woman's Temperance union.

Mr. Dunn will also speak on gospel temperance at 7:30 this evening at the same place. The meetings are free and an invitation is extended to all.
